In the field of culture none of the municipalities has drown its local cultural strategy and there is no regional or national cultural policy either.

EDUCATING YOUTH/CHILDREN ABOUT THE VALUES OF SPACE, July 2009

The aim of the project is to educate youth/children about the values of space, its advantages and capacities for the community development. This is an important topic considering that public spaces in Montenegro are generally rather neglected and often dangerous for their users and that education about the values of space is insufficient in Montenegro.

Schoolyards are among the most neglected public spaces. Instead of being creative oasis, places of creative energy and unique juvenile spirit that reflect the way of life and needs of youth/children, schoolyards are very often in a poor state, they are not used in an adequate way and their potential for developing various activities for youth/children is completely unused.

Because of that, the education of youth/children about the values of space will be conducted through a concrete intervention in a schoolyard of one primary school in Kotor, where the children will have a chance to express their ideas about the arrangement of their schoolyard and to make 3D models.

The aims of the project:

1. To increase knowledge of primary and secondary school students about the values of space through delivering thematic lessons and workshops in the primary school “Savo Ilic” in Kotor
2. To increase practical knowledge of schoolchildren about the designing of space through concrete arrangement of the schoolyard of “Savo Ilić” school
3. To promote the values of space, with special emphasis on space for youth/children
4. To support the Education Office of Montenegro in their efforts to introduce education about space as part of regular curriculum in Montenegrin schools

- NGO Forum MNE (Forum Youth and Informal Education), Kotor
- Education Office of Montenegro

In the second half of 2008 the owner of Šestokrilović Palace in Perast commissioned an architectural analysis of the palace to be conducted by Expeditio. The analysis is intended to serve as the basis for the reconstruction project for the palace. Although the palace is one of the most

The campaign included setting up a website www.expeditio.org/expeditio2 and producing accompanying promotional material – a brochure and a poster. HOW TO SEND A MESSAGE (PARTNER PROJECT), 2004

How To Send A Message / How To Produce A Contemporary Art Work – Step By Step (HSM) is an author project of artist Milica Tomić, whose starting idea was to make the process of an art work creation visible, to render this traumatic act less dramatic. The project has been conducted in cooperation with the Nordic, Serbian and Austrian artists.

An intensive, two-year cooperation process between the author and the workshop participants resulted in deciding on some key questions concerning the production and exhibition policy, as well as the promotion and reception of contemporary art works.

In September 2004, an exhibition of works produced by the project participants was held in Belgrade, titled “How to End a Message” but it did not represent a final phase of the project. Since November 2003, architect Ljiljana Blagojević and representatives of EXPEDITIO - Milica Lopičić, Nataša Ilinčić, Davor Ereš and Marko Todorović - have been engaged in the project. Their role was to conduct individual interviews with the artist and, based on that, to contemplate how the realized art works could be exhibited and then, together with the artists, to define the space and ways in which to exhibit them.

The exhibition “How to End a Message” was included in the international program of the 45th October Salon.

THE STORY ABOUT TWO ISLANDS, 2004

With its work “The Story about Two Islands” EXPEDITIO participated, as representative of Serbia and Montenegro, at the 9th Biennial of Venice 2004. The topic of the Biennial was "METAMORPH", and of our pavilion "Montenegrin ECO-logic Lab". The work of EXPEDITIO is a computer 3D animation, one of six works done by architects and artists that are active on the territory of Montenegro.

“The Story about Two Islands” is a story about Perast, the town situated in the Bay of Boka Kotorسا, which is related to the establishment of EXPEDITIO and some of its projects. EXPEDITIO started its work in 1997 through students’ research projects attempted at preventing further devastation of Perast, giving proposals for the revitalization of the town and drawing the public attention to its values and the dangers to which it was exposed.

The animation speaks about two islands of Perast, St. George and Our Lady of the Rock, which represent a rare combination of opposite elements joined into a unique spatial entity. The first island is natural, while the second one was created artificially – by depositing stones around an original crag over centuries. The artificial island undergoes the constant process of metamorphosis, not only physically, in form and size, but also in its non-material aspect, blending reality and legend. In this process of constant change, the islands keep their mutual harmony, creating a unity of exceptional power and beauty.

RESTORATION WORK CAMP OF THE ST. CROSS FORTRESS, PERAST, 2003

The experience of the Swedish Association for Building Preservation - Svenska föreningen för byggnadsvård - with which EXPEDITIO has been cooperating since 2001, was a stimulus for our organization to try to do something similar in this region. The first in the series of restoration camps included clearing up the fortress of St. Cross in Perast 2002, attended by volunteers from our country and Sweden. The second volunteer work camp included the preparatory works for the restoration of the fortress St. Cross. The volunteers from our country and Sweden participated in the camp.

The results of the action:
- Concrete conservation-restoration activities at the St. Cross Fortress

Donor(s) to the project:

A NEW DURMITOR HOUSE, 2002-2003

A public anonymous architectural competition. The reason for launching the architectural competition „A NEW DURMITOR HOUSE“ was the occurrence of illegal and inadequate building in the region of Mountain Durmitor which threatens to devastate permanently, both in the form and appearance, this area of exceptional value (protected by UNESCO). The project was aimed at promoting the principles of traditional and ecological/green architecture of Durmitor, as a starting point for future building activities. September 2002 - February 2003.

The results of the competition was promoted and presented on exhibition in Zabljak and Podgorica, as well as on additional publication (brochure) and website.

PERAST - an architectural workshop, 1997

An architectural research workshop in Perast. This was the first project-expedition that we have conducted. The choice of the location i.e. Perast proved to have had a decisive role in the further development of EXPEDITIO. During the research, we managed to collect a large quantity of information referring to local legends, historical facts, memories of the local people, to identify all important objects (churches and palaces), to do the reconstruction of the 18th-century coastline, excluding the lower road with the so-called mandraći, to conduct a complete survey of the St. Cross Fortress above Perast. The project was officially supported by the UNESCO.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

MEMBERSHIP IN THE NATIONAL SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

Pursuant to the decision of the Government of the Republic of Montenegro to form a National Sustainable Development Council, as of 2 February 2006, our organization has been appointed a member of the Council. The National Sustainable Development Council consists of 40 members in the following composition: 9 ministers of the Government of Montenegro, mayors from 3 municipalities, 9 managers of public enterprises, a rector of the University of Montenegro, 9 managers of business firms from Montenegro, independent experts, presidents of Montenegrin and Duklja Academies of Science and 5 representatives of non-governmental organizations. The Council is presided by the prime minister of Montenegro.

To our organization the appointment to the Council means acknowledgement of our work and we hope that we will justify the trust that was shown to us. With colleagues from other NGOs, we will endeavour to defend the views of a civil sector.

PRELIMINARY TECHNICAL ASSESSMENTS (PTA), FEASIBILITY STUDIES AND BUSINESS PLANS FOR REHABILITATION PROJECTS IN MONTENEGRO

EXPEDITIO is a member of the working group responsible for Preliminary Technical Assessments (PTA) for rehabilitation projects in Montenegro. The project is conducted within the framework of The Integrated Rehabilitation Project Plan/Survey of the Architectural and Archaeological Heritage (IRPP/SAAH) project jointly implemented by the Council of Europe and the European Commission. In Montenegro the project is implemented by the Ministry of Culture, Sports and Media.

The second phase of the IRPP/SAAH concerns the “Preliminary Technical Assessment” (PTA). The purpose is to identify technical requirements and broad cost estimates for each phase of every proposed intervention (from initial conservation to full rehabilitation) required at each building or site identified in the PIL of each country. A guidance document has been prepared to ensure that compilers gather, analyse and present information to agreed, common European standards. This is a crucial operational and planning stage in the process of attracting donors and the document has been drawn-up with the requirements of international funding agencies in mind.

In the framework of the project, feasibility studies and business plans have been prepared for three cultural properties in Montenegro.

BULLETINS ON SUSTAINABLE SPATIAL DEVELOPMENT

EXPEDITIO has started a series of bulletins discussing the topics concerning spatial planning and sustainable spatial development. The bulletins that are designed, prepared and edited by Biljana Jovanovic, a spatial planner, an associate of EXPEDITIO are placed on our web page www.expeditio.org
